Museum shop

The Vasa Museum shop has something special for all visitors – young and old – all of which relate to Vasa and life in the 1600s. Many of the products are exclusive to the Vasa Museum, such as replicas of objects found on board the ship. The shop can be found on the entrance level next to the exit and is open to everyone, not just museum visitors.

Restaurant & cafe

The Vasa Museum restaurant serves traditional Swedish dishes, coffee, cinnamon rolls, sandwiches and baked goods. Swedish meatballs with cream sauce and lingonberries are always on the menu, along with soup, salad and vegetarian options. The restaurant is on the entrance level next to Vasa's stern.

Toilets

Toilets and baby changing rooms are available at the entrance, by the Information Desk and on floor 3.

Accessibility

Wheelchairs may be borrowed from the Information Desk. The auditorium is equipped with a hearing loop. There is a model available of Vasa for visually impaired visitors. The model allows you to feel with your hands to discover how Vasa was built. If you are interested, contact the Information Desk.

Photography and video recording

Photography and video recording are permitted for private use only.

Welcome to the Vasa Museum

The warship Vasa sank on its maiden voyage in Stockholm on 10 August, 1628. After 333 years on the seabed, the mighty ship was salvaged, and its voyage continued. Today, Vasa is the world's best-preserved 17th century ship, magnificently adorned with hundreds of carved sculptures and 98% original.

Plan your visit

We recommend that you watch the short film about Vasa and join a guided tour around the ship. Information on times for the film and the tours can be found at the Information Desk on floor 4, the entrance level. Audio guides are available in different languages.

All around the ship, there are exhibitions that tell the story of Vasa's history – and what the artefacts, sources and research can tell us about the ship, people and society in early 17th century Sweden. The order you visit the different exhibitions is for you to decide. All exhibitions have information in Swedish and English.

Short on time?

Watch the film about Vasa (17 min.) or go on a guided tour around the ship (25 min.) to get a brief overview of the most significant parts of Vasa's history.

The Vasa Museum is a part of THE SWEDISH NATIONAL MARITIME AND TRANSPORT MUSEUMS

Audio guide

The Vasa Museum's audio guide is available in different languages and can be easily accessed at the website vasamuseet.se/audioguide. You will need your own device to access the audio guide, such as a mobile phone or tablet.

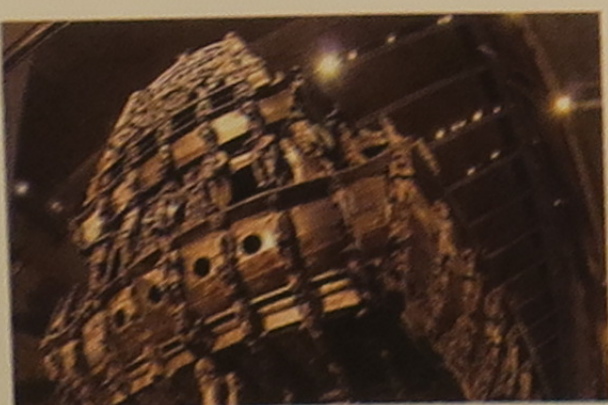

The museum has a free WiFi network, so you can easily stream the audio guide on your mobile phone or tablet. We recommend that you listen using headphones.

Discover the museum with children

Listen to the museum's audioguide for children, it is easily accessed through the QR code here on the side. Discover Vasa together with the Family trail. It is available both digitally and as a printed brochure. For the youngest children, the Vasa Piglet film is shown in the Children's Corner on level 3. After the film, follow the Vasa Piglet trail through the museum. The audioguide, trails and film are available in different languages, and free of charge.
